Rise In Sewage Rates Here Possible

Council Prepares for Overpass Construction

Parking Restrictions Set

Parking will be prohibited on certain streets, and only one-way traffic will be allowed on some thoroughfares during the construction of the W. State St. grade separation, which is soon to start.

These regulations will come about as the result of two ordinances introduced, given three readings and passed with emergency clauses at Wednesday evening's City Council meeting.

Actual work on the bridge will not begin for about a month. The A. P. O'Horo Co. of Youngstown, general contractor on the $1,185,230 improvement, meanwhile is completing service roads at the rear of properties on W. State St. Pay Schedule Adjusted

Another ordinance received by the city legislators last evening calls for increasing the salary of lieutenants in the police department and fire department from $452 to $460 per month.

Given only its first reading thus far, the measure would be in effect 30 days after the mayor has signed it. A second reading is scheduled to be given to the ordinance at Council's next regular session, May 21.

Salary adjustment for the police and fire department heads was considered in recent weeks after it became the decision of Council that the police department operate with two lieutenants, rather than with a captain and one lieutenant. The fire department has had two lieutenants for three years.

Two other ordinances introduced, given all three readings and passed by Council Wednesday, transfer money from one city fund to another.

Parking will be removed from these streets during the construction of the W. State St. overpass: W. Pershing St. from Pine to Howard Ave.

Pine from W. State St. to W. Wilson St.
S. Howard Ave. from W. State St. to W. Wilson St.

Sharp Ave. from W. Pershing to Arch St.;
W. Wilson St. from Pine to Howard Ave.

S. Ellsworth Ave. from State St. south to Wilson St.

For the duration of the overpass construction, these streets will be available for only one-way traffic:

Pine St., one way south from

W. State St. to W. Pershing.
W. Pershing St., one way east from Pine to Sharp Ave.

Sharp Ave., one way north to W. State St. from W. Pershing.
W. State St., one way west from Sharp to Route 14 and Pine at Benton Rd.

Two ordinance passed with emergency clause Wednesday night transfer:

The sum of $1,500 from the duplicating machine fund to the electrical department for the purpose of constructing a building to house regulators and accessories;

The sum of $993 from the contingency fund to the safety department for the purpose of purchasing a truck to be used by the safety department for street lining, painting and signs.

Councilman James Aldom who introduced both transfer ordinances explained that early in the year the finance committee, of which he is acting chairman, set up $3,000 for the purchase of a duplicating machine, but since that time a duplicating machine has been purchased for about $800, leaving a balance which could be transferred.

All members of City Council were present at the Wednesday night meeting except Councilman Fred W. Koenreich, whose absence because of illness was excused.

Says Ban Negotiations Lag

JFK Pessimistic On Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy predicts a new round of nuclear testing by the United States and the Soviet Union unless a test ban treaty is negotiated this year—which he doubts. If the prediction comes true, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday, it "would be a great disaster for the interests of all concerned."

Recalling that he saw brightening prospects for a ban last December, Kennedy said there has been no sense of movement since then.

"I am not hopeful at all," he said, and expressed fear that progress must come soon or "perhaps the genie is out of the bottle and we will not ever get him back in."

Kennedy's pessimism on this subject was matched by an equal measure of optimism about efforts to end what he termed "an ugly situation in Birmingham, Ala."

Declaring that racial strife in Birmingham damaged the city and the nation, Kennedy said in an opening statement that responsible efforts by white and Negro leaders had prompted Birmingham businessmen to pledge "substantial steps" to meet the "justifiable needs of the Negro community."

But he said "much remains to be settled before the situation can be termed satisfactory."

Kennedy said that, in the absence of violations of federal law, the federal government had limited its role in Birmingham to that of mediator. But he said the situation could be quite different if two Negro graduate students win entry this summer to the Huntsville branch of the University of Alabama.

"This, of course, does involve the federal government," he said. And, reminded that Gov. George Wallace has threatened to physically and personally bar integration at the university, Kennedy

Leetonia Board Hires Teachers

Six Apply for Grid Coach's Position

LEETONIA — Three new teachers, including a young woman from France, were employed Wednesday night by the Leetonia Exempted School District Board of Education, but no action was taken on hiring a new football coach.

Superintendent of Schools Victor Wood said six northeastern Ohio coaches have applied for the head football coaching position and a decision will be made soon. The new coach will replace Ivan "Ike" Farrah who has quit to head the grid program at Marlington High School northwest of Alliance.

Awarded teaching contracts last night were: Miss Janet Sooy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Sooy of 166 Highland Ave., Salem; Miss Virginia Hedl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hedl of 213 N. Market St., Lisbon; and Miss Sylvie Fayolle of northern France.

Miss Sooy, who will graduate from Kent State University June 8 with a degree in elementary education, will teach fourth grade. She is a 1959 graduate of Salem Senior High School.

Miss Hedl will teach third grade next fall after graduating in June from Bowling Green State University. David Anderson High School in Lisbon is her alma mater.

Will Teach French
Miss Sayolle is coming to Leetonia to teach French under the five-year-old foreign teacher exchange program made possible by the passage of the Hays-Fulbright Act. She will teach high school French, taking over the classes taught the past year by Miss Helene Flaud. Leetonia's first foreign exchange teacher.

Miss Flaud hopes to teach French in a college in the West next fall.

Supt. Wood and the board expressed appreciation to the public for its endorsement of the 8-mill renewal levy for operation of the school system.

"The vote re-emphasizes the strong community support of its schools," Supt. Wood declared. In other action the board purchased a 66-passenger school bus from Wooley Chevrolet Co. of

J. Lehwald of S. Lincoln Ave. (The tree is believed to be the largest or second largest of its kind in Ohio.)

Withstands Ravages of Time, Disease

Giant Elm Here Older Than City

By VIRGINIA HURRAY
The ones who see it best are children who pass under it on the way to and from school.

And maybe the ones who remember it and love it most are grown-ups who used to walk beneath its spreading branches in decades past.

People drive past this old tree every day, but traffic, car roofs, and business thoughts hinder most passersby from really enjoying the tree to the fullest. You don't get all the benefits of its beauty and greatness if you're in a hurry and if you can't look up into its beautiful structure.

THE TREE STANDS THERE on S. Lincoln by a stone wall on the east side of the avenue, midway between Salem's downtown and the southern corporation limits, in the front yard of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Lehwald.

It was standing there even before there was Salem. And before there was the state of Ohio.

Tree experts guess the high and wide elm is from 250 to 300 years old. No doubt it is the biggest and oldest visible living thing in Salem.

The tree perhaps looked over 10 or 12 generations of youngsters. Maybe some of its autumn leaves helped kindle fires in an Indian's hearth.

MEMBERS OF ITS SPECIES have been on rapid decrease because of widespread blight, and people who make a study of such matters say the Salem tree is one of the two largest Dutch elm trees still living in Ohio. (A survey involving a university professor is under way which may possibly establish as fact that the tree in Salem is THE LARGEST Dutch elm remaining in this state.)

The tree is queenly, graceful, and storied.

Like a regal first lady disdainful of having her picture taken, the tree is protected by a dozen or more ordinary creatures of

Two Men Hurt In Auto Crash

Rogers Resident, Cousin Hospitalized

A young Rogers man and his visiting cousin were hurt Wednesday at 5:15 p.m. when their car struck a concrete bridge abutment on Route 154, two-tenths of a mile west of Rogers.

Injured were Felix Quetot, 19, of Rogers and Donald L. (Butch) Rader, 29, of West Mayfield, Pa. Quetot and Rader were first taken to Salem City Hospital after the mishap, but Quetot was transferred at 7:25 to South Side Hospital in Youngstown where he is listed in fair condition.

Both legs of the Rogers youth were broken. He also suffered a fractured right arm, broken ankle and possible fractured jaw.

The Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol reported Rader was traveling west when his car veered off the right side of the road and struck the narrow bridge. Patrolmen are still investigating the accident.

Rader had come to Rogers to visit Felix and other relatives.

Rogers volunteer firemen were on the scene following the mishap.

Leetonia Escapes Injury
Merle DeRhodes, 53, of RD 2, Leetonia was injured in a crash with a Poland auto Wednesday at 5:10 p.m. on Route 7, just south of Route 124 in Boardman.

The Canfield barracks of the State Highway Patrol said DeRhodes struck the rear end of an auto driven by Donald Pipino, 35, of Poland when Pipino stopped to allow an unknown vehicle to make a right turn.

The Leetonia motorist was cited for driving without the assured clear distance.

DeJANE IS CANDIDATE
Donald W. DeJane of 1841 Cleveland St. is the Democratic candidate for the post of city auditor. He was earnestly listed as Donald W. Deane in Wednesday's News account of the primary election.

Bond Firm Cites Lag In Revenue

The possibility of a sewage rate increase in Salem is seen as the result of a suggestion made to the Utilities Commission by the Cleveland Trust Co., holder of Salem city mortgage revenue bonds, and by a Toledo underwriter.

The current sewage rate here is 53 per cent and has been that since May of 1955. For less than a year previously, the rate had been 35 per cent. The sewage rate was 65 per cent for about a year beginning April, 1953, before a political controversy resulted in the rate being reduced. Council to Discuss Matter

City Council members will consider the matter of a possible hike in the sewage rate during a special "committee - of the whole" meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. At that time, Council will ask the Utilities Commission to present its recommendation concerning the possible increase.

Also slated for discussion at Council's committee session is a proposed extension of W. Second St., in conjunction with the overpass project.

Pointing out to A. A. Parker, Utilities Commission chairman, that net operating revenues of the sewage system have been insufficient to cover debt service for at least the past three years, Ryan, Sutherland & Co., Toledo underwriters of the Salem city bonds, reported deficiencies as follows:

For 1960, the net operating revenue was $32,293.88 while the debt service was $43,287.50 and the deficiency $16,993.67.

In 1961, net operating revenue $37,696; debt service $47,531.43; and deficiency $9,904.

In 1962, $34,368.88; debt service $46,706.06; and deficiency, $12,406.12.

Ryan, Sutherland & Co. recently wrote Parker: "Obviously your sewer rates must be revised upward and this action should be taken promptly if a default is to be avoided. As underwriter of these bonds, we have a responsibility to our customers."

A suggestion was made by the underwriter that the rates be raised to 75 per cent of water rates, which produced last year gross revenues of $178,278.93.

Some city officers doubted today that if an increase is put into effect it would be as large as 75 per cent, but no official wished to be quoted on the matter.

If the sewage rate were to be increased to 75 per cent, the gross revenue from the sewer operation would be swelled about $40,000, which would provide one-and-two-tenths times debt service coverage and leave some margin to take care of probable increases in operating expenses.

Site for New Sebring School To Be Picked

SEBRING — The site for a new elementary school here will be chosen soon, following decision of the Sebring Board of Education Wednesday night to hire a surveyor to select the most propitious school location in the community.

The board hopes to have the building completed in time for opening classes in the fall. The new structure will replace old Lincoln School on Indiana Ave.

A citizens committee appeared before the board to recommend the selection of the 19th St. and West Virginia Ave. intersection as the school site.

The board also awarded contracts to nine school employees, including eight existing workers and a new employee.

Re-hired were four custodians, given two-year contracts, and a new custodian was given a one-year contract. Two-year contracts

Birmingham Truce Effected

Demonstrations End Temporarily

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—This southern industrial city may know today whether month-long desegregation demonstrations finally have come to an end.

A 24-hour moratorium on the protest marches by many hundreds of Negroes during the past few days ended at noon Eastern Standard Time.

Negro leaders voiced hopes that a settlement of racial differences might be reached soon.

The truce almost collapsed a few hours after it started when two of the integrationist leaders were jailed briefly, but it weathered that crisis.

Negro leaders announced the 24-hour truce Wednesday as heavily reinforced police patrolled the streets, quiet in sharp contrast to the crowd scenes of recent days.

The word came shortly before President Kennedy's news conference in Washington. The President said he was gratified by progress in what he described as "an ugly situation."

Alabama Gov. George Wallace called the President's remarks "unjust and unfair" and said the demonstrations had been carried on by "lawless mobs in conflict with lawfully constituted authority." Wallace said he would have no part in conferences "to compromise on the issues of segregation."

Along with a biracial committee, two aides of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy have been working behind the scenes to bring both sides together. The No. 1 negotiator is Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall.

There was no indication of what actually brought the truce.

It was a quiet lull in an explosive situation in which more than 2,400 Negroes have been arrested since the protest demonstrations

Work On Tennis Courts to Resume

Excellent construction weather is speeding progress on the three new, hard-surface tennis courts at Centennial Park, Director C. F. Tomlinson reports.

The Clinton Asphalt Co. of Wilmington expects to complete the courts by next week. Workers are now leveling off the site in preparation for putting on a color coat. The in-bounds sections will be in green, out-of-bounds, in red.

The courts, already fenced in with a 10-foot high section for backstops and six feet high on the sides, will have a slight north-south fall to ensure good drainage.

Several inches of asphalt with a finer grade as surfacing will be poured over about four inches of stone to give the courts a solid base. The new courts will replace the old, clay courts.

Tomlinson said a dedication program will be held before the courts are opened to the public.

More Efficiency For Ohio

The inevitable comparison of the Rhodes administration's project to streamline Ohio government with the federal Hoover Commission can be useful to everybody concerned.

Discoveries were made by the Hoover Commission that will be made by the industrial engineers who have been called into service for Ohio streamlining.

First and foremost was the discovery that government efficiency is possible under this objective approach. It is difficult, sometimes impossible for a public agency to improve its operations because its employees are dependent on one another and all are dependent in some degree on the political system. They cannot be objective.

But objective studies can produce recommendations that can be put into effect by government action. The first Hoover Commission made 30 recommendations. Of those put into full or modified effect, were outstanding.

THEY CAUSED reorganization of the Department of Agriculture, creation of the Department of Health, Welfare and Education, better accounting practices in the Post Office Department, upgrading the Department of Labor, modern budgeting and accounting, upgrading the Bureau of Internal Revenue, better teamwork in the armed services, establishment of the General Services Administration for federal "housekeeping, internal reorganization of the State Department and a more rational system of airline subsidies. Not everything recommended was acted on. Including proposals that were pigeonholed because circumstances had changed before they could be considered, about 60 per cent of the commission's work bore no visible fruit.

But people who understood the psychology of government employees did not underestimate the potentialities of invisible fruit—the overall tightening up of the federal bureaucracy when it knew it was under expert scrutiny.

This will happen in Ohio.

THE INDUSTRIAL engineers who have been called in to tighten up state government may have trouble getting their batting average over .300 but they will have the satisfaction of knowing their presence in the batting box will bring about a general upgrading of employee performance.

The state's employees will know they are under scrutiny by outsiders. Most have nothing to apologize for in the way they do their work, perhaps none. In many cases, they themselves know that the ways in which the work must be done leave much to be desired.

There is room for improvement. There always is.

In some instances, state experts could go into private industry and find room for improvement, too, solely because they would be looking at work methods objectively instead of subjectively.

Spice of Day-to-Day Life

A nationally publicized coal pipeline from Cadiz to Eastlake—one of Ohio's engineering marvels—is reported to be in trouble.

It is the victim of its own success.

Business Week Magazine says it has been transporting coal slurry to the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. so efficiently the company now is being offered railroad delivery of coal at competitive prices.

If the report is not disproved, it could become a revealing chapter in the saga of competition that is the spice of life.

Delivery of coal in slurry form through a pipeline was started because engineers said they could do it for a price competitive with railroad delivery. But nothing happened while engineers were saying they could do it. They had to do something. They did. Now railroads are doing something about competing with the pipeline. That's competition.

Auto manufacturers in this country had thought about building smaller, more efficient cars. They did nothing about it until competition from abroad put them on the defensive. When they did something, U.S. consumers could buy smaller, more efficient, U.S.-made vehicles than they were able to buy before, especially delivery vans that were more economical and convenient.

Whenever this happens, someone bleeds and sometimes dies a little. That is part of competition. No one ever claimed it was the secret of eternal life, just the spice of day-to-day life.

You can get the equivalent of a college education at your public library.

Every time a gal writes in her diary she's storing up laughs for later on in years.

When you kill a lot of time, think of the opportunities you may be murdering!

Public Recognition

Salem has a number of public-spirited citizens who almost daily give of their time and talent to help their community in some avenue of progress and the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce several years ago instituted a program of recognizing some of these leaders with "distinguished service" plaques.

J. Raymond Stiver, Ohio Bell Telephone Co. plant manager and immediate past president of the Chamber, was so honored at the organization's annual dinner meeting Tuesday. He has been a tireless worker in the Chamber for many years, in addition to shouldering officer and committee chairmanships. Congratulations, Ray!

Coming to Grips

By Truman Twill

The president of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. H. C. Hardin Branch, is coming to grips with a problem that has been kicking around at loose ends ever since American families left the old homesteads.

This country should do something systematic about its old people who need supervision, he believes. Existing choices are not enough—hospital and nursing home care vs. continuous personal care by their families.

For elderly Americans who do not need to be taken care of in hospitals and nursing homes there should be a system of "baby-sitting," to relieve families of tensions that build up when they have no surcease from responsibility.

It's a curious thing when you think about it that baby-sitting is commonplace and even family pets have sitters, but hiring sitters to watch the elderly while the family has an evening out is a novel idea.

This is not a matter of money, either, because even families that could afford the money might feel uncomfortable about leaving an elderly person in the care of a "sitter."

The reason is not difficult to figure out. It's because no personal complications are likely to arise between a baby and its sitter, but complicated personality clashes could grow out of the relationship between elderly persons and their sitters.

Yet, it is conceivable that if Dr. Branch went to work hard enough on his idea of sitters for the old as well as the young these problems could be avoided.

The Levy Renewal

The Salem city school system can continue on sound footing as the result of voter's renewal of a 5.4-mill and a 1.9-mill operating levy at Tuesday's primary election.

The combined proposition, which will be in effect for five years, required only 55 per cent majority vote for passage and received a comfortable 62 per cent. In the outlying suburban Perry Township area, where a number of property owners have felt the sting of increased taxes because of new valuations on their homes, the school levy drew only 97 favorable votes to 77 against it. This could be taken as a warning on the board's plans to present a new levy in November for building construction.

It would be a matter of pairing up suitable personalities. In other words, it would be a matter of finding a congenial outsider to come into a family for occasional companionship with an elderly member of the household.

The problem never existed in the traditional homestead, where senior citizens were entitled to their place by the fireside as long as they lived, with their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren for companionship.

It was taken for granted then that this was the way it always was going to be. No baby-sitters were needed or ever would be needed. The generations sat with each other.

The system worked wonderfully well and still would work if the old homestead came back. But it won't. That's not the way people live in this generation.

The president of the American Psychiatric Association has opened up a new job opportunity for an indefinite number of people with the right temperament for senior-citizen sitting.

There's only one catch in it—rates. If they are going to be based on baby-sitting rates, the ideal will have died in its cradle for lack of funds. Some wag will be sure to figure that if a 2-year-old child is worth X amount per hour, an 80-year-old senior citizen should be worth 40 times X, with something extra for each hour after midnight.

We hope Dr. Branch will not be so preoccupied with the psychiatry involved in the problem that he will forget the arithmetic.

U.S. Officials Don't Believe Nikita 'on the Skids'

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

The first time this writer heard Premier Khrushchev bring up the subject of his own mortality was in the process of a scolding.

It was fall, 1960, the year of the shoe pounding. The scene was a Soviet mission reception. In a tone more in sorrow than anger, Mr. Khrushchev began. "Miss Higgins, you have been writing filthy things about me . . . but I'll tell you what I'll do. When I'm in the Communist heaven, and I see you at the gate. I shall turn to our Communist God and say: 'God, let her in for she didn't know what she was doing.'"

It brought down the house—and is typically Khrushchev. It's typical of his gift for the unexpected and the non-conforming. It's a quality that frees him from being an ideological bore and has helped to give him a greater claim to a measure of popularity with the Soviet people than any other political leader.

IT'S ALSO A QUALITY that gets him into trouble. Indeed, back in the fall of 1954, the reigning U.S. Kremlinologists pooh-poohed rumors of Khrushchev's rise, saying that the Russian people and the Soviet hierarchy would never settle for such an uninhibited, informal type as Khrushchev and much preferred as a leader someone with the steady, aloof style of Malenkov who was then premier.

So it was a wrong guess. But it's true that there has been much evidence throughout the years of mutterings against Khrushchev's impetuous and garrulous manner, especially on the part of his more stiff-necked colleagues like Molotov.

Now Khrushchev's public mention of his age (69) and inability to go on forever as Soviet premier and party secretary have become the launching pad for new rumors that he is in trouble and on his way out.

In this case there is an interesting split among the Kremlinologists.

Those in Europe have almost automatically assumed that if there is a reshuffle of any kind in the top leadership, it is because Khrushchev is being pushed into a change against his will.

Washington begs to differ. There is a surprising unanimity among the Washington Kremlinologists that Khrushchev is deliberately acting on his own best judgment to set the stage for a change that, in the beginning at any rate, will do very little to alter the real power situation however many titles he may choose to shed.

The basic reason for this judgment is the lack of evidence that any Soviet faction could or would reverse the basic policies pursued by Khrushchev. Criticism of style and timing is outweighed by agreement on substance.

For instance: Russia's quarrel with Red China is a product of history, the fact that Mao Tse Tung gained power in spite of Moscow rather than because of Moscow) not of Khrushchev.

No future Soviet leader could capitulate to Red China's unconditional demands for acceptance of its more militant, risk-laden attitude toward the world.

No Soviet leader can risk confrontations leading even in the remotest possibility to atomic destruction; therefore there is no substantive way in which Soviet policies toward the U.S. can harden (except in tone and manner) in those areas where Washington's commitment to freedom has any credibility.

WHATEVER Khrushchev's personal feelings in the matter, it is clearly not in the interest of the Soviet Communist party to have its leader appear to be quitting under fire.

At the same time, both Khrushchev and his collective leadership have shown themselves very conscious of the unsettling effects both internationally and nationally of a transition inside Russia carried on in an atmosphere of uncertainty. After all, they went through it themselves after the death of Stalin.

There also is the simple fact that Khrushchev's health is not of the best. So why not give himself a release from some of the pressures attendant to the ceremonial of being premier as well as party secretary by giving the premiership and some on-the-job training to a potential future leader? Fear of competition? So far, it's Khrushchev who is the expert at getting rid of competition.

Moscow wits are currently quipping that the new Soviet constitution will soon add to its extensive (on paper) Bill of Rights the right to posthumous rehabilitation. The betting in Washington is that Khrushchev still is on the go—not on he skids—and will never have to have his friends invoke that right.

Matter of Fact

Snow crystals floating in the rarified air of the upper atmosphere are responsible for the colored arcs, rings and halos we see. In the upper portions of turbulent clouds, the reaction between the snow crystals and sub-cooled water develops electrical charges, producing cloud-to-ground or cloud-to-cloud lightning, radio static and atmospheric electricity. Snow crystals sweeping over an airplane wing can cause electrification and illumination of wing edges and tips.

That Pesky Shadow

Negro March on Washington

By VICTOR RIESEL

A massive Negro "march on Washington," converging on the capital from all parts of the nation, by car caravans, buses, airplanes, trains and even on foot, is being detailedly planned by Negro labor leaders.

Those in charge of the logistics, the routes, the demonstrations, hope to put 100,000 men and women into the capital's streets. All this, including preparing units as far from New York and Washington as Los Angeles and Northwestern cities will take months of preparation. So the target date for the overland "march" is Oct. 4.

It is the words of A. Philip Randolph, Negro vice president of the AFL-CIO, which set the tone and spirit of the transcontinental demonstration, the largest of its kind in our nonmilitary history.

"The time has come," said Randolph in New York recently, "for the development of a massive national effort of the black laboring masses, in the form of a job rights march and mobilization on Washington, in order to wake up Negro America to the job crisis now upon it."

NEGRO CONTINGENTS will not mass at all points of the land merely for an excursion, nor to stretch their legs when they march down Pennsylvania Ave. They will march and jam the streets and malls around the Lincoln Memorial in protest against their friends as well as against those with whom they are in battle.

There is irritation with President Kennedy among them and their leaders. And so A. Philip Randolph, demonstration leader, grand marshal of the vast "march," head of the swiftly-growing Negro American Labor Council, said as he worked on his plans that they hope to "move President Kennedy to a deeper sense of the urgency of the economic situation."

THE UNIONS had not provided them—despite the pressure of some of the national labor leaders and the national AFL-CIO headquarters itself.

The gymnasium is being built with federal funds. So the government had said to the contractors, go on and find Negro workers.

THEN LABOR MEN at the plight of the Negro community."

They will ask John Kennedy to address them from the Lincoln Memorial as they gather 75,000 to 100,000 strong.

There is irritation among the Negro leaders with the predominantly white labor movement.

THE MARCHERS will not only seek to "stir organized labor" into demanding heavier public works spending, and opening more jobs to Negroes, but also to "wipe out every vestige of race bias" in its ranks.

Typical of what has been angering the Negro labor leaders is the untold story of recent development in the "Howard University case." This case has led to one of the most startling of new federal policies.

The newest chapter of this story began in the secretary of labor's official conference room, at 4 p.m. on April 29.

In the room were construction and building trades labor leaders, contractors, and government men—some fifty in all. Chaired the session was the comparatively new undersecretary of labor, John Henning.

With the full knowledge of Secretary Willard Wirtz and the White House, the men had been called together for a showdown talk. The issue was employment of skilled Negro craftsmen on the $2.6 million gymnasium project at all-Negro Howard University here.

Thus far only white labor has been hired despite pressure from the highest government authorities.

FOR MONTHS now the leaders of the sheet metal workers, steamfitters, plumbers and electrical brotherhood locals in Washington had said they'd do what they could.

No Negro was sent along in response to the contractors' requests for skilled labor. With deadline for the project coming up quickly in September, the pressure has been intensifying, go out and find Negro leaders.

Finally all sides were summoned to the April 29 conference. The federal people said, in effect, it would be unfair to take the construction contracts away from the companies, which were willing to hire Negroes.

THE LABOR MEN at the parley were told that if the contractors found them and they were not union men—the Negroes should be hired none the less. This is unheard of inside the Labor Department.

This is the first open threat to deliberately use nonunion labor on a U.S.-subsidized project—and the Labor Department took this drastic action in a final effort to crack open all-white membership lists which the Negro leaders everywhere charge are keeping their people out of jobs by the scores of thousands.

Thus the reasons for the "march" on Washington are not restricted to pressuring any one group. Demands will be made on all.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The whole town is talking about this and most people are as incensed as I am.

The approaching marriage of a young woman was announced recently in the newspaper. The girl flunked out of the University of Michigan and the following year returned home after attending Michigan State for a few months. Then she went East and got a job working in a department store. The newspaper announcement described her as a graduate of Radcliffe.

The girl's fiancé is a young man from New York. According to the newspaper announcement, he is a graduate of Yale. He says, "Pleased to meetcha," and "I'd radder have deez dan doze." My husband is a Yale graduate and he is furious.

Why don't newspapers check the facts? Do they print anything handed to them and assume it is correct? I'd like your comments and so would others in this town.—DONDE VERDAD.

Dear Donde: Some newspapers verify such facts but most newspapers assume that people are not going to lie about their education.

It's disappointing when people are dishonest but why are you "incensed"? You've lost nothing and they've gained nothing. This incident has made the family look ridiculous.

Financial Operation

Dear Ann: I was interested in the letter from the mother of a young dentist. He had just begun to practice and several of his relatives went to him for dental care.

When he sent them bills for his services they refused to pay. They said they were "helping him get experience" and that he should appreciate their willingness to take a chance on him.

You told the mother that a dental fee should be discussed with the patient before the work is done—relative or not.

What about physicians? Both my husband and I have had surgery recently. When the bills arrived we were shocked. We have friends who had similar operations and their bills were much smaller.

I've always felt it was beneath the dignity of a physician to talk about money, and it would be insulting to bring the subject up. What about this?—FINANCIALLY ANEMIC.

Dear Anemic: There is nothing "undignified" about money. In our society we need money to live. Hardly anybody barbers any more.

The cost of surgery should be discussed in advance. It may be impossible to anticipate complications which might make the procedure more costly but a reasonable estimate should be given. And the patient should not hesitate to ask.

Teacher Baiter

Dear Ann: My husband reads your column every day but he will not admit it. Please print this letter. If he sees it in the paper it may help.

We have three children. The two older ones are grown and on their own. They were very bright in school and we never had even one phone call from a teacher or principal. The youngest boy is having a terrible time with his studies. My husband makes matters worse by arguing with his teachers.

Yesterday he got on the phone and told Jack's math teacher that she has it in for him and that his grades would be better if she weren't spiteful. You can imagine what this does to Jack's relationship with the teacher.

What can I do to get my husband to lay off?—WIT'S END.

Dear Wit's End: Nothing, probably. But you can go to school and talk to the teacher so she will know that Jack has at least one rational parent.

Ask her how you can help the boy to do better, and inquire about hiring a tutor.

County's Summer Road Program Set

Columbiana County Engineer Charles Snyder said today the commissioners will advertise today for bids for the county's summer road program.

The commissioners have 126 projects with a total of 127.58 miles and the engineer's cost estimate for the total project is $172,762.

They are advertising for 765,505 gallons of asphalt and 27,396 tons of aggregate, along with 2,000 tons of pre-mixed cold patch and 466 cubic yards of hot mix. This work is listed for roads in 18 townships and will begin as soon as weather is favorable after the bids are received which will be May 20 at 2 p.m. in the commissioners office, Snyder said.

A resume of the program for the coming year was given by Mrs. Harry Snyder.

"Land" was the topic of a paper by Mrs. J. S. Hollinger, who gave a history of the beginning of agriculture in the Middle East. She touched on the problems of soil erosion, land reclamation in Holland, and methods being used in our own country to protect the soil.

Mrs. William King read a paper on "Water" and stressed the importance of recognizing this country's growing lack of pure water. She spoke of water rights and laws and the storage of water for power and irrigation, as well as flood control.

Our basic need of wood as lumber, paper, maple syrup, rubber and other products was the theme of Mrs. George Huston's talk on "Wood". She told how trees help to equalize air moisture and prevent excessive run-off of rainfall.

Mrs. Huston told how trees and forests contribute to our national well-being by furnishing refuge for wildlife, as windbreaks and places for recreation.

The club will have an annual guest night at the next meeting May 20 in the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Geraldine Wilson will be the speaker, her topic, "Wheel of Fortune."

United's Junior High Chorus and boys and girls from the first six grades will participate in the program of vocal and instrumental music.

Before and after the musical event, there will be an art exhibit in the auditorium by elementary and secondary students of Mrs. Barbara Marra.

KSU Director Heard By Seniors Here

Francis E. Hazard, director of the Salem Academic Center of Kent State University, spoke to some 20 Salem Senior High School seniors today concerning enrollment in the fall semester.

He explained new entrance requirements that will go into effect this autumn and informed the students they can meet the new, more rigid requirements by taking a course this summer in preparation for fall admission.

Archaeologists unearthed the Israelite city of Gibeon near El-Jib, eight miles north of Jerusalem. The ancient city is believed to have been built before 1200 B. C.

She pleaded guilty to second-degree murder after being indicted for first-degree murder. Judge Myron B. Gessaman of Franklin County Common Pleas Court sentenced her Wednesday.

Also honored at the pageant will be the 1962 Queen, Sandra Peterson of Canton; her Maid of Honor, Judy Rennels of Alliance; and members of her court: Nancy Hunt Kile, Alliance; Karen Anderson, Greenville, Pa.; Carol Davis, Mentor; Marlene Hanely, Berea; Kay Rodi Kessler of Lisbon; and Kay Mullenix, Ashland.

Activity continues Sunday for the 8:15 spring concert of the chorale at Rodman Playhouse.

Slovak Auxiliary Has Dinner Event Honoring Mothers

Crystal bud vases of roses were interspersed the length of the white linen covered tables when members of the Slovak Auxiliary were hosts to the annual Mother's Day family coverdish dinner Saturday evening in the Slovak Hall.

A basket arrangement of spring flowers graced the officers table. Mrs. John Maruskin, Mrs. Gus Severyn and Mrs. Thomas Foreman were in charge of decorations, and places were set for 78.

A large white three layer cake trimmed with gum drop rose buds, made and decorated by Mrs. Andrew Kemats, centered the dessert table.

Mrs. Maruskin, auxiliary president, introduced her officers and officers of the Slovak Club were introduced by their president, Gus Severyn.

Oldest member present was Martin Carlos, a charter member of the Slovak Club. Mrs. Julia Bojansky was the oldest mother; Mrs. Louis Waldo, the youngest mother, and her son 4-month-old Louis Jr. the youngest child present.

The cook book was awarded to Mrs. James Tausch.

Mrs. George Hajcak and Mrs. Kenats were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements for the event and were assisted by Mrs. John Gonduski.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be at 8 p.m. Saturday at the club.

Plans For Wedding

Miss Doris L. Galechick

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Galechick of 725 W. Pershing St. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Leray, to Kenneth Leigh Miller, son of Mrs. Glen Maurer of RD 1, Salem, and the late Russell Miller.

The couple will be married June 1 in the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

School Employees Chapter Honors Mr., Mrs. Fadely

Members of Chapter 215, Ohio Association of Public School Employees, entertained husbands and wives at a coverdish supper and social hour Monday evening in the teachers dining room of the Senior High school cafeteria.

The event was arranged in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Fadely, who are soon to take a two-year assignment with the Methodist Mission Board in Monrovia, Liberia, Africa.

Mrs. Gilbert Everhart, chairman of the hospitality committee, used the theme "Flight to Africa" in the decorations. A plastic model airplane surrounded by miniature suitcases bearing the names of cities en route the Fadely's trip was the feature of the speaker's table. Straw-thatched native African huts, made by Mrs. Everhart, were at each of the other tables.

Mrs. Margaret Hanna, general chairman, extended a welcome to the guests and introduced the short program. Willard Crowl, vice president, conducted the presentation of various gifts of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Fadely. Mrs. Howard Rankin, president, and Daniel Papic and John Coy, elected delegates, presented brief reports on the State Convention of Ohio Public School Employees held in Cincinnati on May 2-4.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Isler of Massillon. Mr. Isler succeeds Mr. Fadely as president of the East Central District Executive Board of O.A.P.S.E.

Bernard J. Cigrand, a school teacher of Wisconsin, sometimes is called the "Father of Flag Day" because of his lifetime efforts for an annual national observance of such a day.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: So many of you all have asked, "Can eggs be frozen?" that here is our answer... after much research. It comes from a food economist.

Dear Heloise: Your question: "can eggs be frozen?"

Yes, eggs may be frozen, whole, or as yolks and whites separately. Only the highest quality eggs should be used for freezing.

Top quality eggs, properly prepared packed and freezer stored, hold their quality well for nine months to a year. For freezing use a rigid container such as heavily waxed cups, plastic or metal freezer boxes.

Containers should be small enough to hold just the quantity of egg to be used at one time or for one recipe. To allow for expansion of egg during freezing, leave 1/2 to 3/4-inch headspace, depending upon the size of container. Whether to add sweetening or salt depends on how the egg is to be used, i.e., for cake or dessert or for scrambled egg or main dish.

Whole Egg: Break into measuring cup. Add 1/2 tablespoon sugar or corn syrup per one cup eggs or 1/2 teaspoon salt. Stir with fork or beater enough to mix for one recipe. To allow for ex-thoroughly but not enough to whip in air. Put through a food mill or medium-mesh strainer. Pour into container, seal, label and freeze.

Egg Yolks: To each cup of yolks add 1 tablespoon sugar or syrup or 1/2 teaspoon salt and mix thoroughly. Strain, pour into container, seal and freeze.

Egg White: When separating whites and yolks, avoid getting even a droplet of yolk in the white. If a trace gets in, remove with tip of spoon. Otherwise whites will not whip well. Put whites through food mill or strainer. Pour in container, seal and freeze. No sugar or salt need be added to whites.

To use Frozen Eggs: Thaw in container in refrigerator, use promptly. Once thawed, frozen eggs are highly perishable. Substitute for fresh eggs in recipes as follows: 2 1/2 tablespoons whole egg for 1 egg, 1 tablespoon yolk for 1 egg yolk; 1 1/4 tablespoon white for one eggwhite.

So gals, when eggs are on sale... buy em!
Watch for the ads in the paper and don't let this bargain pass you by. Comes the time

HELOISE.
DEAR HELOISE: I pack three lunches every morning. Naturally... they are sandwiches.

I find that after I make my sandwiches and they are lined up on the drain board that it is far easier to use my ordinary pancake turner, slide it under the sandwich, lift open the paper bag and slide the sandwich into the paperbag just like I would a pancake!

This keeps the sandwiches with soft filling from falling part. Also you can use that same pancake turner to open that waxed paper bag beautifully. Just slide it inside the bag and see!

OAS Unit Believes War Threat Eases

Mission Delays Haiti Return

NEW YORK (AP)—The special peace committee of the Organization of American States delayed its return to Haiti and the Dominican Republic today, apparently convinced that the threat of war between the two Caribbean neighbors is no longer serious.

The main concern appeared to be whether the threat of revolt in Haiti would prompt Dictator-President Francois Duvalier to launch sweeping, bloody reprisals against foreigners, particularly Americans, and suspected opponents.

The anti-Duvalier underground has threatened an uprising by May 15. Meanwhile the OAS is without authority to intervene in what is essentially a domestic Haitian affair.

Gonzalo Facio of Cosea Rica, head of the OAS council, told newsmen in New York Wednesday night that it may be 10 days before the committee goes back to the troubled island of Hispaniola.

"The committee almost certainly will return," Facio said. "But just when and what their agenda will be hasn't been decided yet."

The special committee was set up last week after Duvalier's police invaded the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince in search of Duvalier opponents who had taken refuge there.

Dominican President Juan Bosch moved troops to the border and threatened military action, but a visit by the OAS committee calmed the situation.

Facio said the OAS will study a report from Alberto Zuleta of Colombia, a committee member who stayed behind and was expected back from Santo Domingo today.

"We're also evaluating other information before deciding when the committee will return," Facio said. "We're getting reports on the situation of those in asylum in Port au Prince and on the Haitian internal situation."

Haitian Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers conferred with Facio and members of the OAS committee Wednesday night in New York and told them he will try to end his government's hostile acts against 22 political refugees still in the Dominican Embassy.

He also promised the committee to press Duvalier to give safe conduct out of the country to the refugees, who were put under protection of the Colombian Embassy after Haiti broke relations with the Dominican Republic last week.

At the height of the crisis, Duvalier pledged to let 15 of the 22 refugees go and to allow the other seven to transfer to the Colombian Embassy. Instead he ringed the Dominican Embassy with troops, and Bosch has demanded that all 22 be allowed to leave the country.

About 60 Duvalier opponents are in other Latin-American embassies in Port au Prince. No open move has been made against them.

Chalmers told newsmen Monday night in Port au Prince that little by little all the refugees in all the embassies would be allowed to leave Haiti. None has been given safe conduct, however.

The OAS council gave its special committee new powers Wednesday to perform "whatever service is necessary" to help solve the dispute between Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

Mission Was Handicapped
There had been complaints that the mission was handicapped because it was empowered only to investigate the situation.

Chalmers told the U.N. Security Council Wednesday that Haiti had been subjected to repeated threats of aggression from the Dominican Republic.

Guarao Velazquez, the Dominican delegate to the U.N., denied the charge and proposed that the dispute be left in the hands of the OAS.

More Security Council debate was scheduled today. The council was expected to leave the dispute with the OAS.

AP Correspondent Robert Berrellez reported from Port au Prince that underground conspirators are striking nightly against Duvalier's militia in a bid to topple the dictator before the month is out.

178 Americans Leave
Two Pan American planes airlifted 178 wives and children of American servicemen and diplomats from Haiti Wednesday while the converted aircraft carrier Boxer and a squadron of U.S. warships lay offshore with 2,000 Marines aboard.

The State Department estimated there were 1,680 Americans in Haiti before the evacuation began 1,300 of them non-government civilians. It urged the latter to leave Haiti and ordered families of government employees to get out.

The first evacuees said on arrival in Miami that they had seen little of the terror reported in Haiti because they had followed U.S. orders to stay close to their quarters.

Council Agrees to Oiling of Streets

City Council has said "yes" to a request by the city administration that money be set aside for the oiling of unpaved city streets and alleys.

As a result, city streets and alleys which Service Director James E. Feiler lists as needing it will be oiled once a year by the city.

In the past, when residents were required to pay for oiling of roadways the situation was a "hit or miss" proposition, according to Mayor Dean B. Cranmer, with residents in a neighborhood sometimes agreeing to pay, while nearby residents declined.

Albert Lesch, chairman of Council's streets and alleys committee, brought the matter to the attention of Council after study by himself and Feiler.

The service director is expected to release soon the list of streets and alleys to be oiled by the city.

here, whose bid was rated the best of three offered. The new van will replace a 1954 vehicle.

A contract was awarded to the American Warming and Ventilating Co. of Cleveland to repair and recondition four furnaces at the high school building.

The board approved a request by Superintendent Victor Wood to apply for a quantity of miscellaneous glassware and other equipment needed for the chemistry and physics laboratories. The application for the materials will be made soon through the National Defense Act office in Columbus.

Under the set-up, Leetonia will pay half the cost, the federal government pays the balance.

Leetonia Schools since 1956 has obtained $15,000 worth of school equipment and materials through the federal matching fund program, the superintendent reported.

Passed by the board was the 1963-64 school calendar. School will open September 3, 1963, and close May 31, 1964. Only major change was the lengthening of Easter Vacation by one day. In recent years students were dismissed on Good Friday and returned to school the following Tuesday. Easter vacation next school year will begin on Thursday.

Supt. Wood reported on a new method of high school scheduling and the recent Leetonia scholarship banquet.

Dr. Paul H. Beaver, president, conducted the meeting at Orchard Hill School. Other board members present were Dr. Guy Nicolette, Dr. Paul W. Conrad, Wayne Holmway, Joe Woods, and clerk Gladys Gause.

The next regular meeting will be held June 12.

Salem Twp. Cemetery Maintenance Okayed

The Salem Township Trustees Association Wednesday night made plans for maintaining the four township cemeteries for the year at their regular meeting at the Leetonia Methodist Church.

Contracts were awarded to mow and trim at the four cemeteries in the summer and fall. Hired to do the work were John Hall of Leetonia, Franklin Square and Hart's Cemeteries; John Gostey of RD, Leetonia, White Cemetery; and Ray McCartney of RD 3, Salem, Phillips Cemetery.

Trustees also discussed the oiling of the four miles of unpaved roads. About 200 feet will be oiled in front of residences to quell dust. Since the amount to be spent exceeds $1,000 the group will advertise for bids on the oiling job.

began April 3. More than 2,000—most of them teen-agers—were arrested in the past week after the demonstrations expanded.

Goals of the Negro movement are desegregation of downtown lunch counters, restrooms and other public facilities; better job opportunities for Negroes; formation of a biracial committee with authority to solve racial problems; and dismissal of charges against all demonstrators who were jailed.

The truce in Birmingham faltered when Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, two Negro leaders, were convicted and jailed for parading without a permit.

The two had been arrested on Good Friday while leading a protest march.

They and 34 other demonstrators were given maximum sentences of 180 days and $100 fines.

Beloit Ruritans Mark Ladies Night

BELOIT — A program on Tellyn and other man-made satellites was presented at annual Ladies Night held by the Beloit Ruritans Club at Smith Grange hall Wednesday night. About 30 attended.

The program, under the direction of William Eshelman, was presented by a representative of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co.

At the business meeting conducted by Willis Greenisen, president, a community auction sale to be held May 18 at the firemen's show lot was announced. Ruritans and the firemen are sponsoring the auction to raise funds to aid the Centennial celebration. Residents are asked to have used goods ready for pickup Monday and Wednesday.

Also announced were a Centennial bake sale Saturday at Court's Store and the IGA Foodliner, and community cleanup day to be held Friday.

With Patients

Philip G. Weidenhof of 510 Perry St. is in Ward 27 B at Veterans Hospital, 7300 York Road, Cleveland. He was admitted to the hospital last week for an indefinite stay.

Raymond Greenamyer, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Greenamyer of Benton Road is in fairly good condition in the Central Clinic Hospital where he is a medical patient.

Kennedy

said he hoped everyone would obey court orders "whether they agree with them or not."

In a 30-minute session that touched often on racial matters, Kennedy said the bettering of race relations is not a problem for the South alone.

Asked if he would endorse the move by white and Negro families in Knoxville, Tenn., to visit each other in their homes, Kennedy said:

"I think it would be very helpful, and you can start right here in Washington, D.C., where this is greatly needed."

Two overseas crises also were discussed.

Kennedy said that while Soviet Premier Khrushchev has reaffirmed a pledge to support a neutral and independent Laos, a recent attack on International Control Commission helicopters by the Pathet Lao "indicates that they are not at the present time living up to this commitment." He said he hopes Khrushchev can do better than that.

Asked if economic or diplomatic sanctions should be used against the Haitian regime of Francois Duvalier, Kennedy said the Organization of American States is doing right by sending a special group that will try to keep peace between the Dominican Republic and neighboring Haiti.

Finally, Kennedy was asked about one potential crisis and still another that is fast fading.

The impact of recent political changes in the Middle East cannot yet be assessed, the President said, but the United States will support the security of Israel and her Arab neighbors, try to limit the arms race in the area and discourage Communist penetration.

Kennedy hopes to cover "the entire waterfront" in a weekend conference at Hyannisport, Mass., with Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson. The "waterfront" includes such items as defense, trade, and investment on which Kennedy and Pearson's predecessor, John G. Diefenbaker, were in sharp disagreement.

Apart from race relations, the major domestic topic was Kennedy's recent decision to replace Adm. George W. Anderson as chief of naval operations on Aug. 1.

Kennedy denied that Anderson failed to meet expectations, that he fought Pentagon civilians too vigorously and that his replacement was meant as a warning to others to get in line with the administration.

The President then announced that Anderson has agreed to accept "a position of high responsibility" and said he wouldn't have offered the job "if I did not have the highest confidence in him." The position is believed to be an ambassadorship.

On a related subject, Kennedy was asked about reported disgruntlement of some Pentagon brass at the actions of their civilian bosses.

"Obviously," said Kennedy, "there are bound to be some disappointments with the decision of civilian leaders." But he said the decisions had to be made.

On other topics Kennedy said he:

Hopes for failure of efforts by some groups to make basic changes in the Constitution in order to curb the power of the Supreme Court and make the adoption of constitutional amendments more difficult.

Sees no prospect of Congress passing a substitute feed grains bill if wheat growers reject production curbs in a forthcoming referendum.

Favors foreign aid for a government-owned steel mill in India because India, he said, needs the steel.

Fresh flowers decorate buses and public lavatories in Japan.

REPORTS ACCIDENT

Ed Wentzel, manager of the Farmers National Bank parking lot, reported to police that a car hauler tore down some wires and damaged a pole in the lot at the corner of N. Broadway and Second St. Wednesday.

The original state capitol in Austin, Texas, was a wooden one-story building, which was protected from Indians by an eight-foot stockade, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

wounds on the body, he said. "A person who would inflict brutality of this sort was not of sound mind," Delmonico said. The doctor said there was no evidence of rape.

Two kerchiefs and a nylon stocking were knotted around the victim's throat in an apparent strangling attempt. But "they did not cause death," the doctor said.

He placed the time of death as sometime after 11 p.m., Sunday night. A neighbor reported seeing the victim alive at about that time. Miss Samans' body, clad in a negligee, her hands tied behind her back, was found on a bed in her two-room apartment by police after they were called by Oliver Chamberlain, 33, an acquaintance of the girl.

Police said Chamberlain told them another man, not identified, called him and said he had received no response at the girl's apartment.

There was no sign of a struggle or of forced entry, police said. They found the front door unlocked.

The brunette student, who lived alone was last reported seen Sunday, police said.

Shriners To Present Flag to City Saturday

Illustrious potentate Paul A. Chevallier of Al Koran Temple in Cleveland will present Mayor Dean B. Cranmer with a flag for the city prior to the Shriners parade here Saturday.

The presentation will take place at about 1 p.m. in front of City Hall.

The flag once flew over the Capitol in Washington. Similar flags will be presented to East Palestine and East Liverpool.

Word was received today that another Cleveland Shrine unit, The Hunter's Club, will be among those appearing in the parade here which is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Indonesian Reds Adopt Chinese Line

WASHINGTON (AP) High American officials are now counting Indonesia's Communist party — the largest outside of the Iron Curtain countries — in Peking's camp in the leadership dispute between the Soviet Union and Communist China.

Authoritative sources said that the switch of Indonesian Reds to the Chinese hard line must be considered one of the major Soviet disappointments of the past year and a cause for a serious reappraisal inside the Kremlin. The Russians invested up to $2 billion arms and economic aid for Indonesia in a strong effort to retain influence there. The development was no source of particular satisfaction to Washington and other non-Communist capitals. Under pressure from the PKI—Partei Komunis Indonesia—Indonesian President Sukarno appears to have veered increasingly away from the neutral foreign policy he had long proclaimed.

U.S. officials were particularly unhappy about a recent Afro-Asian journalists conference which opened with a keynote address by Sukarno. The conference appeared to be under the control of the PKI and ended with a volley of resolutions denouncing the United States in a virtual carbon copy of Peking's sharpest anti-American propaganda charges.

The conference was similar to the Chinese Communist-engineered meeting in Moshi, Tanganyika. For a second time, the Soviet Union was frozen out on the grounds that it was not an Asian power and could not be represented at an Afro-Asian meeting.

The United States has tried, apparently without dramatic success, to coax Indonesia away from the Communist camp.

Kindergarten Tea Held In Columbiana

COLUMBIANA — One hundred and fifty-five members and guests attended the Kindergarten Mothers Club Tea held Tuesday evening at Joshua Dixon School for mothers of children who will be entering kindergarten next fall.

Mrs. Donald Oberholzer introduced the officers who explained the function of their respective jobs and the club itself.

Mrs. Maxine Clark and Mrs. D. W. Bailey, kindergarten teachers, explained the grading system.

Members of the club presented the teachers with gift certificates. The High School senior quartet entertained the group with selections from "West Side Story" and concluded with "The Willow Song."

Highlight of the evening was provided by Walter Messersmith, who showed movies taken during class sessions of the children now attending kindergarten.

Tea table appointments were in yellow and white. Mrs. John Heintzelman was in charge of decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Fedora Detunno won the centerpiece used on the tea table.

Next meeting June 3 will be a picnic at Firestone Park for mothers and kindergarten students.

Paint-Slinging Pair Get Revenge on Modern Art

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gus Brady and Henry Retzliff Jr. got their revenge on modern art this week.

Two years ago, Brady said, he "worked myself to death for about three months" painting an entry for the Arkansas Regional Art Show, supposed to contain representational pictures of Arkansas scenes.

A work of modern art won it. This year Brady teamed up with Retzliff—they are commercial artists who work together—and entered a piece called, perhaps with logic, "Experimentation into the Realm of Nocturnal Schizophrenic Endeavors."

The "art" was done at night, without any lights, on a 4x6-foot piece of wallboard.

The two stood the board on an outside wall, placed a 10-foot ladder in front of it and started "painting." Brady backed off and threw paint at the board. Retzliff brushed.

The only real endeavor in the piece came in the selection of colors.

"We got purple for depth, orange for bright, and pink," Brady said. The pink turned out beige on the panel.

They used oil-based and water-based paint and when they tired of throwing paint, they used sand. Then they dosed the whole thing with a bucket of water. It took them 30 minutes.

To observe their handiwork, the two drove a car behind the building where the panel was, and turned its headlights on the piece. "We got some interesting effects," Brady said. "We liked it."

The work, among 220 entries, was placed in the top 12, got an honorable mention. First prize went to another painting—also an abstraction.

Republican Leaders Dine Tonight at $1,000 a Plate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders from around the country dine tonight at $1,000 a plate—and take a new look at a couple of potential presidential nominees.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will have a chance to show their political wares at the dinner, which party officials hope will raise more than $400,000 for the 1964 congressional campaigns.

The gathering also provides an opportunity for informal discussion among the party leaders about the political future of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

He had been considered almost a sure bet for next year's GOP presidential nomination until doubts were thrown on his prospects by his divorce 14 months ago and his marriage last Saturday to a divorcee, Margaretta Fittler Murphy.

He canceled out of tonight's dinner because he's honeymooning in Venezuela. However, he sent in his check for $1,000.

Romney is down to make one of the brief speeches at the dinner, while Goldwater will be the guest of honor. Originally the dinner was billed as a "salute to Goldwater," honoring him as former chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee.

But later the title was changed to "salute to the Senate"—apparently in the interests of party unity.

There was no sign that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower would attend the affair.

Eisenhower has not publicly proclaimed his choice for the nomination; he has said merely that he would support the man the Republican convention chooses.

Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania will not attend because of prior commitments in his home state.

WATERWORKS IS SOLD

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Sale of the Geneva city waterworks to the Ohio Water Service Co. of Struthers, approved by voters Tuesday, will be effected in about 60 days. Sale price was set at $1,117,610.

The firm now serves about 15,000 customers in its Lake Erie district between Willoughby in Lake County and the Ashtabula city limits. Some 2,100 customers are served by the Geneva plant.

A remnant of the Canaanites, the Biblical inhabitants of Palestine, maintained itself along the Mediterranean coast and became the Phoenician people.

County Gets $3,471 From Three Courts

LISBON — A total of $3,471.05 was paid to the county treasurer by the three county courts during April, according to Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

A breakdown shows $2,141.55 in patrol fines, $1,329.50 in civil and criminal cases and court costs.

The state treasurer received $1,584.45 for its 45 per cent of the patrol fines.

The courts at Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon handled 27 criminal cases and 62 civil cases during the month.

Sheriff, constable and city police fees amounted to $223.52.

Planning Commission OK's Allotment Plan

The City Planning Commission, meeting in City Hall Wednesday afternoon, gave preliminary approval of a 25-acre allotment being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Duke of Stewart Road.

The allotment, located on the north side of Stewart Road, about two miles south of Salem near Depot Road, will be divided into lots for homes. A new 60-foot circular road will serve the suburban residential area, according to present plans.

Liz Taylor Signs To Do TV Tour of London

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—When Elizabeth Taylor, an American motion picture actress, gets around to showing her native city, London, to television viewers next season, there won't be a tourist cliché shown, the producers assured us.

"I suppose we'll see Liz Taylor in the Poet's Corner, Liz Taylor setting her watch by Big Ben, Liz Taylor borrowing a pound from the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," ventured your reporter eagerly.

Norman Baer and Phil D'Antoni who dreamed up "Elizabeth Taylor's London" and sold it to Miss Taylor, a sponsor and the CBS network inside of four days, looked disdainful.

"Absolutely not," replied D'Antoni firmly. "You won't see any of those tired old things."

Baer and D'Antoni have been in network broadcasting for several years, and formed a television packaging company about three months ago.

"We want to produce specials, and we worked on several ideas," explained Baer. "Then we thought of the London show. There were really only two people who would have been perfect to do it."

"Elizabeth Two or Elizabeth F.?" asked your reporter. "No," said Baer. "Miss Taylor or Princess Margaret. We asked Miss Taylor first and she accepted."

The producers airmailed some material directly to the actress, who immediately invited them to talk it over.

D'Antoni flew to London and wrapped up the deal. Neither partner will say how much Miss Taylor will receive for the hour long special but indicated that $400,000 was a most conservative figure.

"She felt that a television tour of London had great educational value," explained D'Antoni.

The filming of the show is expected to start the end of this month, to be finished by the end of June. They have hired an English camera crew, including one photographer who has made a specialty of photographing women. And in color.

Recommended tonight: "The Nurses," CBS, 1011 (Eastern Daylight Time—"Express Stop from Lenox Avenue," an episode, starring Ruby Dee, about a nurse who tried to leave Harlem and her people behind.

Alverta Davidson To Be Wed Saturday

ROGERS — Mrs. Ellen Davidson of East Liverpool and Mr. Thomas Davidson of Negley announce the coming wedding of their daughter, Alverta Jean Davidson, to Gerald Lee Arthurs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Arthurs of New Waterford.

The open church ceremony will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday in New Waterford Methodist Church, with Rev. H. L. Strawn officiating. A half-hour musical interval beginning at 7:30 p.m. will precede the ceremony, and a reception will follow in the church social room. No cards have been issued.

After their marriage, the young couple will leave for Mr. Arthurs' new post at Fort Benning, Ga. He recently returned from Korea.

Bill Would OK
Larger Motors On Piedmont Lake

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS — A bill to let boating enthusiasts use motors up to 18 horsepower on Piedmont Lake was introduced in the Ohio General Assembly Tuesday by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville.

Sargus introduced the bill after receiving 15 separate petitions signed by more than 300 residents of the Piedmont Lake area in Belmont and Harrison counties.
He said one of the principal arguments by the petitioners is that under certain weather conditions some boats cannot make sufficient headway under 6 h.p. motors—the most powerful allowed on the lake under existing law.

Sargus' bill would limit the use of 18 h.p. motors to boats "properly proportioned" for motors of that size, and in designated areas of the lake.
Meanwhile, another outboard motor bill was recommended for passage Tuesday night by the house conservation committee.
Sponsored by Rep. Charles F. Rothel, R-Harrison, it would permit continuing use of motors up to 50 h.p. on portions of Tappan Lake in northwestern Harrison County.

Rothel explained that use of motors up to 50 h.p. is permitted now under a temporary trial arrangement due to expire in 1964. He said the trial period has proved that the motors are suitable in certain areas of the lake and that permission for their use should be made permanent.

East Goshen

Mrs. Charles DeVol, missionary in Formosa was guest speaker when the mother and daughter banquet was held in the East Goshen Friends Church Monday. Mrs. Clarence Sekerak was toastmistress with devotions conducted by Mrs. Charles Matti. The invocation was presented by Mrs. Ora Wallace.
The program consisted of "A Tribute to My Mother" by Valeria Neiswander; "A Challenge to My Daughter" by Mrs. Howard Neiswander; a poem, "To My Granddaughter" by Mrs. Grace Mellott; "To My Grandmother" by Ruth Mellott; a vocal duet by Kathy Phillips and Susan Osberg.

Mrs. DeVol's talk was followed by the benediction by Mrs. Leroy Osberg.
The appointments for the casserole banquet were garden plants with pastel nylon favors. Mrs. Richard Gologram, Mrs. Allen Lockhart and Mrs. Charles Williams comprised the committee in charge with 112 persons present.

URGED TO AMEND BILL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Senate judiciary committee, studying a House-approved bill to ban Sunday sale of real or personal property with exemptions for certain necessities, has been urged to amend it.

Suggestions made it a hearing Wednesday included specific exemption of radio and television stations, "little corner groceries" and car washes, and broadening of what may be sold at filling stations. But Judge Emmett Grabbill of Massillon Municipal Court said the bill is specific enough to clear up some present enforcement problems.

9 Schools Await County Meet At Salem Friday

Several Marks Are In Jeopardy

Quarter-Mile Run To Be Close Race

One of the finest fields in recent years will compete in the Columbiana County Track and Field Meet at Reilly Stadium Friday afternoon and evening.

Nine schools are set for the 14 events. Columbiana figures to sweep at least seven first places, based on comparative times of all the athletes entered.

There is also a good chance of several new records being set during the classic.

Preliminaries will be run off in the afternoon, and the finals are scheduled to get under way at 7 p.m.

TICKETS FOR the finals will cost 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

A terrific race is expected in the 440-yard dash. Salem's Bill Beery has been timed in 52 flat. Ron Roush of East Liverpool has run the quarter in 52.7 and each of the schools competing has a boy who has run the quarter mile under 55 seconds.

Schools competing in the event include Beaver Local, Columbiana, Crestview, East Liverpool, East Palestine, Leetonia, Lisbon, United, Wellsville and Salem.

THE 60TH ANNUAL classic promises to be as close as any of the previous meets.

Two sprint records are in jeopardy. George Gaines of Columbiana set the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash marks back in 1919.

Jim Ward, one of the greatest sprint stars in the Clippers' history has an excellent chance of breaking both.

ONLY A JUNIOR, he has already run the century in 9.8 seconds and the 220 in 21.4. The 1919 records stand at 10 flat and 22 seconds, respectively.

Ward also anchors the 880-yard relay and has broad jumped 22 feet so far this season.

All of the schools have one or two outstanding boys, with the Quakers possibly having a slight edge in depth.

Some of the athletes on Columbiana's squad were working out as late as 7:30 p.m. yesterday in preparation for the meet.

THE SEVEN FIRSTS the Clippers are likely to win are the two sprints, broad jump, 180-yard low hurdles, 880-yard relay, shot put and 120-yard high hurdles.

The Quakers will have strength in the distance races, quarter mile, high jump, and mile relay.

The Red and Black have an edge in Ohio's oldest county meet, having captured the classic 25 times. East Palestine is second with 17 victories.

Seven Salem Men Compete At Canfield

Stock car racing has attracted 15 new drivers to Canfield Speedway and all of them will be on hand Saturday night when the late models and amateurs get together for a 11-race program.

The newcomers are John Murray of Warren, Artie Figinsky of Laké Milton, Harold Juiklerat of New Springfield, Bill Simcox of New Middletown, Harold Kasza of Canfield, Ken Tillery of Girard, Fred Harker of Salem, Ray Jones of Niles, Pinky Pincombe of Salem, Gene Friend of McDonald, Willie Diamond of Diamond, Andy Frost of Youngstown, Corky O'Rourke of Youngstown, Dusty Gooden of Fowler and Russ Gurd of Austintown.

For the district cities Salem appears to draw the top interest among drivers, as seven drivers were in last Saturday's program. Two of them, Rabbi Hippley and Dick Shasteen are late model pilots. The others, amateurs, are Ken Suggett, Harker, Merle Welling, Gene Secrest and Pincombe.

George Garland, Tri-County Tops among the amateurs is Suggett. Driving a 1955 Chevrolet, Suggett was fastest in the time trials in 19.47. He ran fourth in the feature, while Welling placed fourth in one of the heat races.

Qualifying trials have become very important for the amateurs as only 20 cars can run in the feature, so out of the some 60 to 70 amateur cars on hand, one must be among the first 20 to make the big race.

Saturday night there will be 11 races, including the 25-lap late model feature and a 20-lapper for the amateurs.

All of the Idia teane gldlme o All of the leading late model stars will be back again.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30 p.m. Time trials begin at 7 and first race at 8:30 p.m.

Salem Juniors Whip 2 Alliance Teams In Triangular Track Meet

Salem's ninth grade track team set three school records as it defeated Alliance State Street and Alliance Stanton in a junior high triangular track and field meet at Reilly Stadium here Wednesday.

Fleischer, Catlin, Seibert and Windram reset the 880-yard relay mark again as the unit raced to a speedy 1:40.4 for the event.

Lantz heaved the discus 117 feet, 1/2 inch to better the mark he established in the Struthers Invitational of 111 feet, 2 inches.

He then tied his teammate Hary for first in the pole vault at 9 feet, 10 inches while setting the mark. Hary went 9-9 at Struthers last Saturday for the old record.

Salem compiled 73 points to capture the meet. State Street was second with 52 and Stanton finished third with 25.

Dunn of Stanton was the only double winner. He nipped Seibert of Salem in the 100-yard dash by about a 15th of a step in 10.7. Seibert's time was 10.75.

In the 220-yard dash, Dunn again edged Seibert, only this time by about a half step in 25.1. Seibert was clocked in 25.2.

100 YARD DASH—Won by Dunn (ST), 2nd Seibert (S), 3rd Ramsey (SS), 4th Fleischer (S). Time: 10.7.

220 YARD DASH—Won by Dunn (ST), 2nd Seibert (S), 3rd Fleischer (S), 4th Ramsey (SS). Time: 25.1.

Drops 5-4 Decision In District Finals

Beaver Local Loses To Niles In Tourney

A ninth inning rally by Beaver Local just missed as the Beavers lost 5-4 to Niles in the Class AA District Baseball finals at Borts Field in Youngstown Wednesday.

The Red Dragons, runnerup in the state finals last year, chalked up their 21st victory over the past two years.

Going into the last of the seventh, Niles held a 5-1 lead.

The Beavers, with two out stormed back with three runs. Pinch-hitter John Alulis, batting only for the third time this season, singled, and Bill Bychowiec singled. Both runners moved up on stolen bases, then scored on a single by Larry Esinger, who went to third on an error. Dennis Horger singled to drive in Esinger. Berhar grounded out to end the threat.

Horger hit an inside the park home run for the Beavers in the fourth inning.

The turning point in the game came in the sixth inning. The first two batters for Beaver Local reached base but failed to score. Horger and Bob Schukert, who was the losing pitcher, had three

Late Inning Rallies Break Up 4 AL Games; Chisox Jump Into 1st

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Rudolph turned in an amazing pitching performance and Don Lock hit a grand slam homer in the 13th inning for a 6-3 Senator victory over Cleveland in Washington Wednesday night.

Rudolph allowed only one hit—a single by Tony Martinez in the fourth inning—until the 13th when he began to tire.

In between he retired 25 Indians in a row—the equivalent of pitching 8 1-3 innings of perfect ball. He wound up with a four-hitter.

While Rudolph was turning in his masterpiece, the Chicago White Sox broke one up, shelling Kansas City's Ed Rakow for eight runs in the seventh inning after he had pitched perfect ball for six innings. The 8-3 triumph over the A's moved the White Sox into the American League lead.

Sets 3 Marks While Racing To 109 Points

W. Reserve Cops Class A Mahoning County Jr. Meet

Western Reserve Junior High School scored 109 points to win the Mahoning County Class A track and field meet held at Boardman Wednesday. Reserve took 11 firsts of the 16 events held.

Springfield was second with 53 points; North Lima third with 42; Lowellville fourth with 25½; Greenford fifth with 15; and Sebring sixth with 11½.

The Reserve lightweights scored 51 points to take their division. Springfield had 26½ points; Lowellville, 12; Greenford, 9½; Sebring, 9; and North Lima, 4.

Woolman with 12 points, M. Owen with 11½, and H. Owen with 10½, led the Reserve scoring. Reserve set two new meet records. Woolman bettered the high jump record with a leap of 4 ft. 6½ in. The Reserve 440 relay team lowered the relay mark to 56.8.

Reserve also led the heavy-weight division with 58 points. North Lima was second with 38; Springfield had 26½; Lowellville

Leetonia Golfers Defeat Crestview

Frank Guerrier took medalist honors with a 40 to spark Leetonia (4-1) to a 9-0 victory over Crestview in a golf match held at Copeland Hills course Tuesday.

Jim Hartley carded a 45 for the winners. He was followed by Pete Otto, 49; and Paul Russell, 48.

Al Cobourn shot a 46 to pace Crestview. Charles Rupert had a 59; Paul Samora, 58; and Daryl Jones, 62. The Bears' reserves won 6-0.

Davis Homers Twice, Triples As Dogers Whip Cards 11-5

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

One of the Los Angeles Dodgers' big concerns this season has been the hitting slump of Tommy Davis, who led the National League with a .346 average and 153 runs batted in last season. He's been hampered by leg injuries and is hitting only .227.

But Willie Davis, sometimes called the other Davis, suddenly has taken up the slack. In the last four games, Willie's had seven hits in 15 times at bat and has driven in five runs.

It's no coincidence that the Dodgers have won three of the four, including an 11-5 decision over St. Louis Wednesday night. Willie had two homers and a triple in that one, driving in three runs and scoring the one that broke a 5-5 tie.

San Francisco opened a two-game lead atop the standings with a 12-5 victory over Milwaukee's slumping Braves. Cincinnati edged Houston 3-2, the Chicago Cubs bombed Pittsburgh 9-5 and New York's Mets downed Philadelphia 3-2.

The Giants, who have won eight of their last nine, rushed in seven runs on five hits and a couple of errors in the fourth inning at Milwaukee and breezed in. It was Milwaukee's fifth straight loss.

Wheat Program Choices

When wheat farmers in Columbiana County and elsewhere in the nation cast their ballots in the May 21 national wheat referendum, they will choose between two programs for the 1964 wheat crop.

A yes vote by two-thirds of the eligible voters casting ballots would mean a program which would include:

Acres allotments on wheat, about 10 per cent less than this year and about the same as in 1962.

A 2-price plan, with prices supported at about $2 a bushel (about $2.05 in Ohio) for 80 per cent of the normal production on allotted acreage, which would be about 975 million bushels, and about $1.30 a bushel ($1.35 in Ohio) for the remainder.

Diversion payments for wheat land shifted to conservation uses under provisions which are both mandatory and voluntary.

Marketing quotas, including penalties for over planting.

A NO VOTE BY MORE than one-third of the producers casting ballots would mean:

Acres allotments at about 10 per cent less than in 1963 and about the same as in 1962.

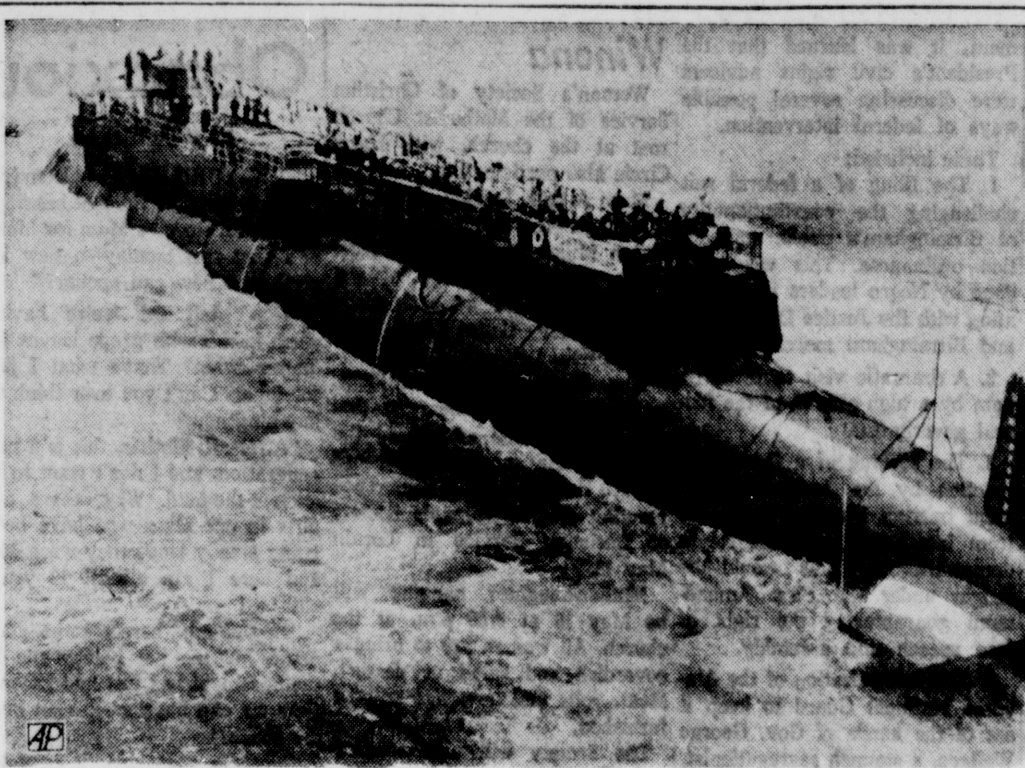

No penalties for over planting allotments other than loss of price support.

No acreage diversion or diversion payments.

Price support at 50 per cent of parity or about $1.25 a bushel in the U.S. ($1.30 in Ohio) for those farmers who comply with allotments.

THE 2-PRICE PLAN which would go into effect if the referendum passes is one of the new provisions of the program. Two Ohio State University extension economists, Wallace Barr and John Bottom, explain the plan this way:

The national wheat allocation

LAUNCHING OF THE JACK — The nuclear-powered attack submarine Jack is pictured hitting the water after being launched at the Portsmouth, N.H., Naval Shipyard. As a Thresher class submarine, the Jack is designed to travel faster, dive deeper and run more quietly than any other submarine.

in 1964 for domestic use, plus some for export, would amount to about 975 million bushels. This allocation, representing about 80 per cent of the nation's normal production, would be known as "certificate wheat," and the price support for it would be approximately $2 a bushel. Wheat grown in excess of the allocation would be "non-certificate wheat," and the price support level on it would be about $1.30 a bushel.

IF THE REFERENDUM passes, wheat marketing certificates would be distributed among individual producers on the same basis that the national marketing allocation is distributed, namely, 80 per cent of their normal production on allotted acreage.

Mandatory and voluntary provisions for land diversion are included. The mandatory diversion, say Barr and Bottom, would be 10 per cent nationally and on individual farms. The voluntary diversion would be 20 per cent of the 1964 allotment, or up to and including 13.5 acres, whichever was larger, but, of course it could not exceed the 1964 allotment.

THE PAYMENT RATE per acre for mandatory diversion would be 30 per cent of the normal yield times about $2 per bushel. The payment rate per acre for the voluntary diversion would be 50 per cent of the normal yield times about $2 per bushel. The payment rate for diverting the entire 1964 wheat allotment—both mandatory and voluntary—would be 50 per cent of the normal yield times about $2 per bushel.

If the referendum fails, there would be no diversion program or payments. No wheat certificates would be issued. Producers complying with allotments would be eligible for price support at about $1.25 per bushel.

Modern Hog Housing

Pork production is making great strides. Improved breeding, better feeds, new management techniques and modern housing are all contributing to the growth and efficiency of raising hogs.

Producers are able to handle more hogs than ever before and are getting hogs to market weights sooner. At the same time, they are finding new ways to reduce costs and save labor.

Confinement and environmental control have been instrumental in the modern pork producers' quest for greater efficiency. Diseases and parasites are easier to control and uniform production, year-round, is possible.

One of the most modern confinement layouts in the country is a new hog finishing unit at Radnor, Ohio. This installation has the latest in up-to-date housing, feed and water handling, and waste removal. The building is located on the Penry Brothers farm.

The basic units of the building are precast concrete rigid frames to support the walls and roof. The walls themselves are insulated concrete "sandwich" wall panels. The concrete rigid frame idea was developed by agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois.

The hog house is 30x36 ft. and designed to handle three groups of 150 hogs a year. The hogs are confined on concrete slotted floors over a lagoon to reduce labor for cleaning. Insulated, ventilated and automated—that's the latest in raising hogs on the Penry farm.

Hanover Township Trustees Convened

HANOVER TWP. — All members were present when the Hanover Township trustees met Monday evening in the township house.

Bills amounting to $331 were approved and paid. It was announced that all labor bills must be submitted within 30 days.

Repairs on blacktopped roads has begun and easement for Lakeview allotments for a 20-foot walking extension was approved for Raymond Whinnery of Guilford Lake.

The next meeting will be May 21 at the township house.

One of the most modern confinement layouts in the country is a new hog finishing unit at Radnor, Ohio. This installation has the latest in up-to-date housing, feed and water handling, and waste removal. The building is located on the Penry Brothers farm.

The basic units of the building are precast concrete rigid frames to support the walls and roof. The walls themselves are insulated concrete "sandwich" wall panels. The concrete rigid frame idea was developed by agricultural engineers at the University of Illinois.

The hog house is 30x36 ft. and designed to handle three groups of 150 hogs a year. The hogs are confined on concrete slotted floors over a lagoon to reduce labor for cleaning. Insulated, ventilated and automated—that's the latest in raising hogs on the Penry farm.

JFK Keeps Close Watch On Shaky Birmingham Truce

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy kept a close watch today on a shaky truce in racially troubled Birmingham, Ala.

The President hailed at his news conference Wednesday the government induced accord that temporarily halted integration demonstrations in the city. And he made clear that he prefers limiting Washington's role to conciliation.

There have been no federal violations, the President said, and so "our efforts have been focused on getting both sides together to settle in a peaceful fashion."

Still, it is known that if the truce snaps—it did for a few hours Wednesday night—the White House has considered several ways of getting deeper into the crisis.

Before the news conference, the White House announced that "every avenue of executive authority is being explored with reference to racial difficulties in Birmingham, Ala."

While Andrew Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, did not amplify this announcement, it was learned that the President's civil rights advisers were discussing several possible ways of federal intervention.

These included:

1. The filing of a federal suit challenging the constitutionality of Birmingham's public segregation ordinances. This would be done by Negro leaders in cooperation with the Justice Department and Birmingham merchants.
2. A dramatic visit to Birmingham by a high official of the federal government.
3. The seeking of a federal injunction by the Justice Department barring Birmingham police from interfering with the Negro demonstrations. This would be sought under the First Amendment guaranteeing the right of free speech and assembly.
4. The federalization of the Alabama National Guard to keep it out of the hands of Gov. George Wallace, a staunch segregationist.
5. A threat by the federal government to withhold certain federal funds from Alabama.
6. Intervention by the President under the civil rights laws passed by Congress in the post-Civil War reconstruction period. Under a section of this law, the President, by using marshals or troops, could arrest local police who deprive citizens of their civil rights.

Winona

Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church met at the church, with Hazel Circle also participating.

Mrs. Arthur Loudon, treasurer of the general society, and Miss Karen Miller, treasurer of Hazel Circle, were in charge of the annual pledge service, assisted by Mrs. Gilmer Coffee and Mrs. John Firth.

Mrs. Harry Hanna, president, conducted the business session during which she announced the dates of the school of missions in Mt. Union and the conference meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in Lorain May 15.

Mother-daughter banquet will be May 16 at 6:30 p.m. at the church. All women are to bring a coverdish and salad or dessert. Meat, rolls and beverage will be furnished.

The Society will also sponsor a family dinner and meeting at the church May 26 after the regular morning worship service, with Miss Martha Grof, missionary from Borneo, as guest speaker.

Society members will be guests of the Lisbon Methodists at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Whinery of Salem June 5 at 12:30 p.m.

Class A fires are those that originate in paper, textiles, wood, etc., and they can best be extinguished by water; Class B fires are those caused by such flammable liquids as gasoline, kerosene, etc., and should be smothered.

Obnoxious Remarks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that mothers get tired of hearing: "What'll we give Mom for Mother's Day this Sunday—a new ice pick or a new can opener?"

"Don't tell me we're having shish kebabs with grape leaves for dinner again? That's what I had for lunch. Can't you ever think up anything new?"

"After all, Mother, this is a new generation, and I don't want to be stuck-in-the-mud. Why, there are girls in our class who have been going steady since they were 10—and here I am almost 12 years old."

"Hey, Mom, here's some good news. My big pet blacksnake in the basement has just had kittens. Now we can have snakes all over the house."

"Mothers sure have it easy today. My grandmother used to have to go out and help pull the plow when the mule got sick."

"Three of her front teeth are coming in crooked. But I think that in three years—and for $750—I can straighten them out nicely."

"Answer the phone, will you, Mom? I'm busy studying this book on the boyhood of Abraham Lincoln. What a square he was!"

"I don't care what the kids did. I've had a hard day at the office. If they need punishing, you punish them."

"Hurry up and sew on the button, Mom, or I'll be late to school."

"Mother, dear, could you please help me with this homework problem in algebra? While you're working it out I'll watch television. They've got a real keen program on, and I'll just die utterly if I don't get to see it."

"Stab me with a knife, Mother, shoot me with a gun—but please, please, please don't make me wear an old-fashioned dress like that to school. Everybody in class will laugh at me. I'd rather be dead, dead, dead."

"What a soft snap women have today. Why, my grandmother used to take in washing to help out the family."

"It's Mrs. Spieler on the phone, Mom. She wants to know if you can drive around and pick up three or four more parents on your way to the P.T.A. meeting tonight."

"Please don't let Dad see my report card, Mom. He'll kill me—I just know he will."

SPECIAL NOTICES

1 SPECIAL NOTICES

DEAF MAN PERFECTS SMALLEST HEARING AID

AKRON, Ohio—A remarkable midget hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small aid has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a most unusual idea and design in a product for the hard of hearing.

It is especially made for those people who can hear but not understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television, and radio at his ear rather than a transmitter located in the wearer's clothing.

Due to the use of 4 transistors, the user cost is extremely low and the instrument weighs approximately 1/4 ounce. It is about the size of a sewing thimble.

No salesman will urge you to buy a hearing aid.

You will receive full information without any obligation whatever.

The Doctor Says

Health Questions, Answers

Q—I have cracking of the corners of my mouth. The skin doctor says it is "perleche," because a culture showed yeast cells. It clears up, then comes back again. What should I do?

A — Perleche is a cracking of the corners of the mouth. The most usual cause is infection with the yeast known as Candida albicans. Local treatment with a 5 per cent sulfadiazine ointment or a 5 per cent ammoniated mercury ointment usually clears it up promptly. If this does not work, a lotion containing amphotericin B applied locally three times a day should clear it up.

Q—Is there any cure for Mediterranean anemia, or must one continue treatment indefinitely?

A—Mediterranean anemia, or thalassemia, is an inherited disease in which the red blood cells are thinner than normal and the red cell count is low. In some persons the condition is so mild as to be of no consequence. In others, the anemia is severe. This type of anemia responds poorly to iron and other drugs used to treat anemia. There is at present no known cure.

Q—I have been told that I have nodular vasculitis. I am not taking any medicine, as none was prescribed. Can you tell me more about this condition?

A—This is a nodular eruption that usually appears on the calves. The nodules sometimes break down and form ulcers. Healing is slow. The condition is usually worse in cold weather. In some persons the disease is a form of skin tuberculosis, but in most victims no cause can be found. The legs should be kept warm at all times. When ulcers form, appropriate dressings should be used to cover them. If the cause is tuberculosis, anti-tuberculous drugs are given. Otherwise, as in your case, no drugs are given.

Q—I have had purpura simplex since 1959. The purpuric spots are limited to my ankles and feet. Could an injury to my coccyx bone have any bearing on this? I have severe pains every day in my left foot and up to my hip. I was treated with cortisone and niacin, but nothing helped. What should I do?

A—"Purpura" refers to spontaneous bleeding under the skin. Many cases of purpura simplex are thought to be due to an allergy.

The cause of the allergy may be hard to find, but the attempt should be made.

The disease would not be in any way related to an injury to any bone, but it may be related to rheumatic fever or rheumatoid arthritis. Since the pains you describe may be due to arthritis, this angle should be investigated.

Elkton

Elkton Methodist Church received six new members Sunday. They were Eileen Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dixon; Sheila Evans and Pamela Evans, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hughie Evans; Ida Exline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Exline; Barbara Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Crawford; and George Sturgeon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sturgeon. Ida Exline also received the sacrament of baptism.

Rev. William L. Brown, pastor, will conduct baptismal services at 9 a.m. service Sunday. Anyone interested may contact Rev. Brown. Sermon topic will be "How Do I Love?"

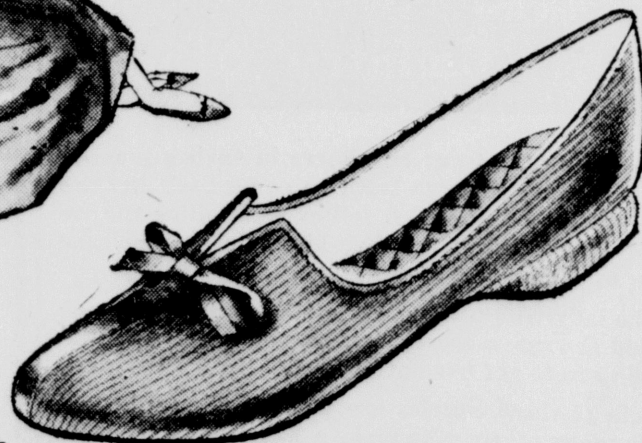

Patients at the Salem Central Clinic are Miss Vida Switzer, and Mrs. Wilmina Harris, former Elkton residents. Harry Malone of Cream Ridge Rd. remains a patient at Salem City Hospital.

A combined rummage and bake sale, sponsored by the parents of Cub Scout Pack 108, will be held Friday and Saturday at the former L & H Building in Lisbon. Proceeds will be used for supplies for the Scouts.

Final Patent Teachers Association meeting of the school year will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Elkton School.

Pvt. Donald Jugenheimer, stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jugenheimer.
